

Project #4

Title: Effective Strategies for Civic Engagement Active in Postsecondary Education Today

Organization: Grantmakers for Education' Postsecondary Access and Attainment (PSA2) Impact Group

We would like to learn how postsecondary education (community colleges, colleges and universities, technical training credential programs, and nonprofit organizations supporting postsecondary students) is teaching people to be engaged civically in their communities.

Which parts of this postsecondary sector are using strategies to get people involved in participating in democracy, and what strategies are effective at engaging people?

What skills are being taught within civic participation or engagement?

And what are the gaps where philanthropy and supporters are needed to grow postsecondary's capacity to increase civic engagement, both nonpartisan and cross-partisan?

This project will include a literature review.
